

Need your medical ID card quick? Print a temporary one or see it on our mobile app.

Haven't received your medical ID card yet? Or do you need to go to a doctor's appointment before you get it? There's no need to worry — you can always print a temporary ID card. It'll work just as well as the real thing. You can print a temporary ID card online through our website by following these steps:

1. Go online to anthem.com/ca/SISC and log in. If you don't have an account yet, you'll need to register first (call member services to ask for your health care ID number to register), or you can register with the policy holder's social security number.
2. Choose Print Temporary ID Card under Resources.
3. From the drop down menu, select the name of the member whose ID card you'd like to print.
4. When the system shows the temporary ID card, choose the printer icon in the upper left corner to print.

Requesting an ID card for a dependent child

During enrollment, you'll receive member ID cards in the mail for the policy holder and the spouse/domestic partner, but not for dependent children, even if they're adults. That means you won't see their names in the Print Temporary ID Card section on the website either. But you can still order temporary cards for dependent children. Here's how:

1. Call the customer service number on the back of your ID card or order the card anthem.com/ca/SISC.
2. To order the card on the website, log in and register — if you have not already — using your Anthem ID number. If you do not have your Anthem ID number, you can register with the policy holder's social security number or call customer service to get it.
3. After logging in, select the blue Customer Support tab and then select I need to...Request an ID card.
4. Once the card is ordered it will be viewable and printable the next day as a temporary card on the website, and it will look just like the card you receive in the mail.
